

Christmas in Da Hood, Martha Solomon, iScribe Publications LLC, 2012, 0988312638, 9780988312630, . As a child, every year in New York at Christmastime, we'd watch "Twas the Night Before Christmas" on the television. My mother had a gift; she had the ability to take a single word and write whole stories and poems. One day I realized I had the same gift as my mother. I took the thoughts from my mind, put them on paper, and lo and behold, I wrote a children's book--not a story that falls too far from the tree of the original--one that deviates just enough to make you wonder what could happen if a mouse was found in the house at Christmas. Because I am from the city, I've lived among all kinds of pests, including mice. I imagined how whimsical it would be if a mouse showed up at Christmas. I also recalled one Christmas, as my mom and the 5 of us children were cleaning our 4 floor house in the city, the dogs got a hold of the turkey that was supposed to be our dinner that night. They pulled it to the floor and ate it all up. It was out of that memory that I chose to implement that storyline in the book and decided to add humor. After years of meditation, I finally wrote it out and thus, "Christmas in Da Hood" was born. This is a humorous children's story of how a family had to cope with a mouse and the excitement he brought to this household. I truly hope you enjoy this clever twist on the classic story..

DOWNLOAD <http://bit.ly/IMJDmz>

, , , , , , ,

<http://yvihowiq.files.wordpress.com/2013/12/1li7b1o.pdf>
<http://yvihowiq.files.wordpress.com/2013/12/2il4kga.pdf>
<http://yvihowiq.files.wordpress.com/2013/12/1hl53me.pdf>
<http://yvihowiq.files.wordpress.com/2013/12/iff98.pdf>
<http://yvihowiq.files.wordpress.com/2013/12/5fj1c3a.pdf>